Ali Tayyeb,
PhD, RN, NPD-BC, PHN, FADLN, FAAN
Program Director HealthImpact

Dr. Ali R. Tayyeb, PhD, RN, NPD-BC, PHN, FADLN, FAAN, is a nurse leader, educator, scholar, and U.S. Navy veteran whose work bridges nursing education, healthcare policy, professional development, and advocacy. A former Fleet Marine Force Hospital Corpsman, his military service continues to inform his commitment to improving healthcare for veterans and underserved communities. He earned his PhD in Nursing from the University of San Diego and both his MSN in Nursing Education and BSN from California State University, Los Angeles, and his Associate in Arts degree from Los Angeles Pierce College.

A Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing and the Academy of Diversity Leaders in Nursing, Dr. Tayyeb challenges conventional approaches to nursing leadership, professional recognition, and institutional accountability. His scholarship and advocacy examine the disconnect between organizational values and institutional practices, with particular attention to workforce development, educational equity, and the structures that shape professional opportunity. Recognized with the AACN Visionary Leadership Pioneering Spirit Award and the ANA\California President's Award, he brings a critical yet collaborative perspective to advancing the nursing profession. Through his teaching, writing, mentorship, and consulting, he advocates for meaningful institutional change, professional accountability, and greater recognition of the contributions nurses make to healthcare and society. Dr. Tayyeb Currently serves a Program Director at Health Impact and Faculty-in-Residence and DNP Faculty at California State University, Los Angeles, and is the founder and CEO of RN-Mentor Consulting, LLC.